But the glowing accounts of the splendid opportunities America afforded induced Mr. Krauss to seek his fortune in the meropolis of our country in 1852. In 1872 he became a resident for the first time of Tionesta, where he had large classes in vocal and instrumental music. Leaving our town for other locations, he returned in 1887 and again assumed his vocation, Later he took up his residence in Tidioute but returned to our town in July, 1900, which has been his place of residence ever since. The only member of his family in this country, alone in the world at his advanced age, mourned. But the "human heart is kind." and when it came to be known how he struggled to the last to live honestly and not become a charge or burden to anyone, many kind acts were extended this elderly gentleman which were all appreciated by him. Although deprived of many of the necessities of life he never complained, but acted well his part. He was remarkably economical and industriousnever idle-and if he did not have work that brought him money, he would study and analyze the flowers of the forest, practice, read or write. He was never known to say an unkind word, or to do an unkind act towards any person, and he was more kind and thoughtful of the feathered creatures of the air than most of our citizens. Even after he was ailing he purchased, out of his meagre income, food for the birds and, when the days were coldest and snow deepest, he waded out to fill the window sill of his little cottage with food for the chicadees, And surely He, who careth for the sparrows, took notice and dealt tenderly with His servant, granting his wish that he go to Him without being a charge, and crowning him with the honor and respect of his fellow citizens.

Perhaps as evidence of this fact a large coon captured alive Saturday carried the marks of having gone through a very heated battle, being minus one front foot and a side tusk, broken off close to the jaw. It was surprising how he handled that "stump" and easily licked all the dogs in the town. Had he been "all together" and fat he'd have been a sight to make the Pittsburg Gazette's coon turn green with envy.

When it appeared in the South Hall the dectors again pronounced it chickenpox. The management of the school relying on the judgment of the physicians thought there was no cause for alarm; indeed they assured us that there could no evil effects arise from the disease, and that it would run its course in a few days. Health Officer, Dr. J. W. Wright, of Erie, was finally called by the board of health, and pronounced the disease a mild form of smallpox. The Normal School authorities, in coninnetion with board of health of Edinboro, acted upon the advice of Health Officer Wright and immediately took every precaution to confine and to stamp out the disease, whatever it might be. And to that end the management has purchased a Formaldebydo Apparatus, which the health officer assured us will effectually eradicate the disease, in as much as no living germ can exist in the presence of Formaldehydo gas. There are no new cases, and the five students who were pronounced by the physicians to be affected by the disease are now convalescent, and will leave for home this week. The Trustees have now a force of men at work fu,nigating and disinfecting all the buildings upon the grounds, and no building will be opened for occupancy by students until the same has been inspected and pronounced safe by an officer of the State Board of Health. The New Dormitory will be ready for the reception of lady students upon the reopening of school on March 17th. This building will be supplied throughout with new furnishings, thus insuring safety, covenience and comfort to the students.

The Model School reopened Tuesday, March 3d, and the Normal School will reopen Tuesday, March 17th, and will continue, without a break through the spring session, closing July 1st, 1903.

We congratulate ourselves, our patrons and the public, and are very thankful that there are no serious results arising from our recent scare.
